NEXT STEP EDUCATION GROUP SUPPORTS JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT

Staff participates in "JA in a Day" at Victor Primary School

On Thursday, May 23, Next Step Education Group staff will join 40 volunteers at the Victor Primary School to volunteer with Junior Achievement. "JA in a Day" is provided to first through third grades in 47 classes at the Victor Primary School.

The program works with volunteers from area businesses in the classrooms for a single-day event. Junior Achievement provides the curriculum for the day's activities and area business leaders provide the students with the foundation to understand the lessons taught. The lessons are focused on community, their roles as citizens and how to be a good employee and consumer.

Next Step Education Group has participated in Junior Achievement activities for more than a decade. Next Step employees are granted 40 volunteer hours a year to participate in programs such as Junior Achievement.

"I've always believed in the power of volunteering," said Next Step Education Group CEO, David Mammano. "I'm excited to have a staff that believes in it as well and have them choose to participate in such a great event."
